

A large, stylized pink musical note, resembling a treble clef, is the central graphic. It has multiple parallel lines following its curves, giving it a sense of motion or vibration. The note is set against a dark, textured background.

MUSIC BELONGS TO EVERYONE

The Editors of MEMORIES '56 and all who have contributed to the production of this yearbook are to be congratulated for selecting a theme so universal as MUSIC. It encompasses the lives of everyone--now, and forevermore. Its truth is everlasting.

Music--in today's schools--is for every one. From kindergarten through high school, each student is encouraged to develop a love of music and to take a full part in many musical activities--singing, listening and playing. He even learns to create his own music. And with this study come significant by-products--the development of self-expression, opportunity for emotional response, the democratic influences of group activity, and discipline of thought. With his classmates, each boy and girl absorbs the impact of music as a character builder. Inspired music--from folk song to symphony--implants inspiration and aspiration in that response to all beauty is quickened. Thus the social, emotional, and intellectual by-products of music contribute to the growth of everyone as a well-rounded human being. Each student discovers the inner satisfaction of music, a satisfaction which can become a lifetime resource and pleasure.

My best wishes go to each of you in the Class of 1956 for a successful completion of your "Unfinished Symphony."

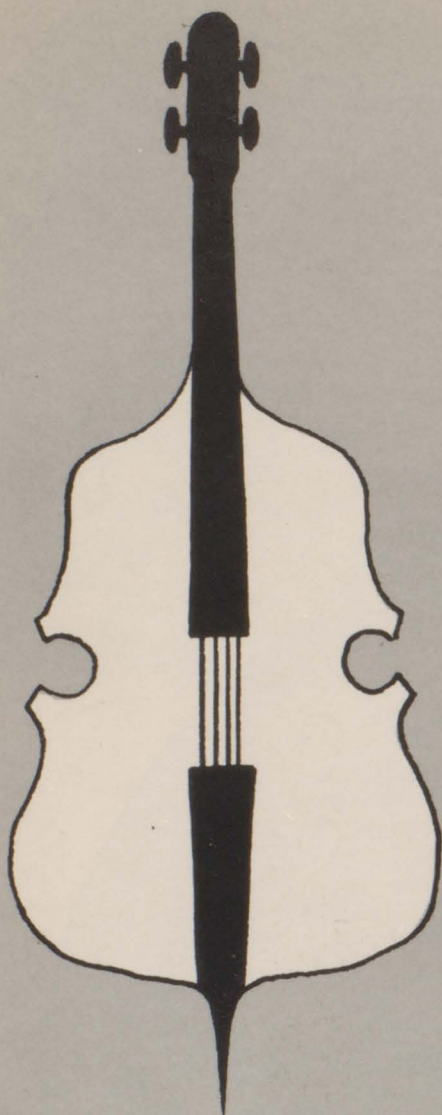

Sincerely yours,
Harry M. Rice

TREBBIE

Trebbie, the comical little character who appears throughout MEMORIES '56, is an abstract creation, intangible, but very real. He is a musical note cavorting along the staff of B.H.S., his adventures symbolic of those we have experienced. Somewhere on these pages, you may find yourself as you were yesterday, are today, or will be tomorrow. For Trebbie is you, the graduate of 1956, treasuring the past, embracing the future.

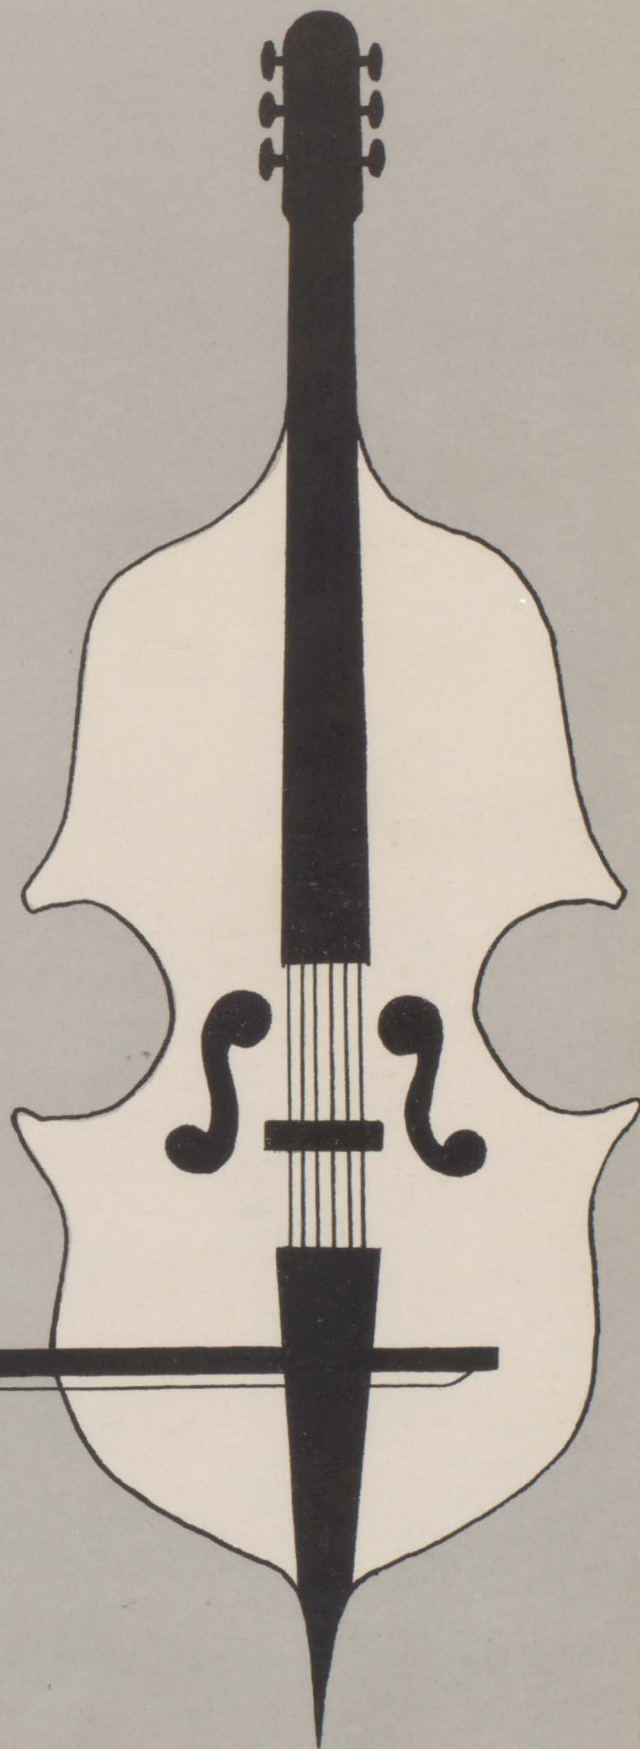

overture

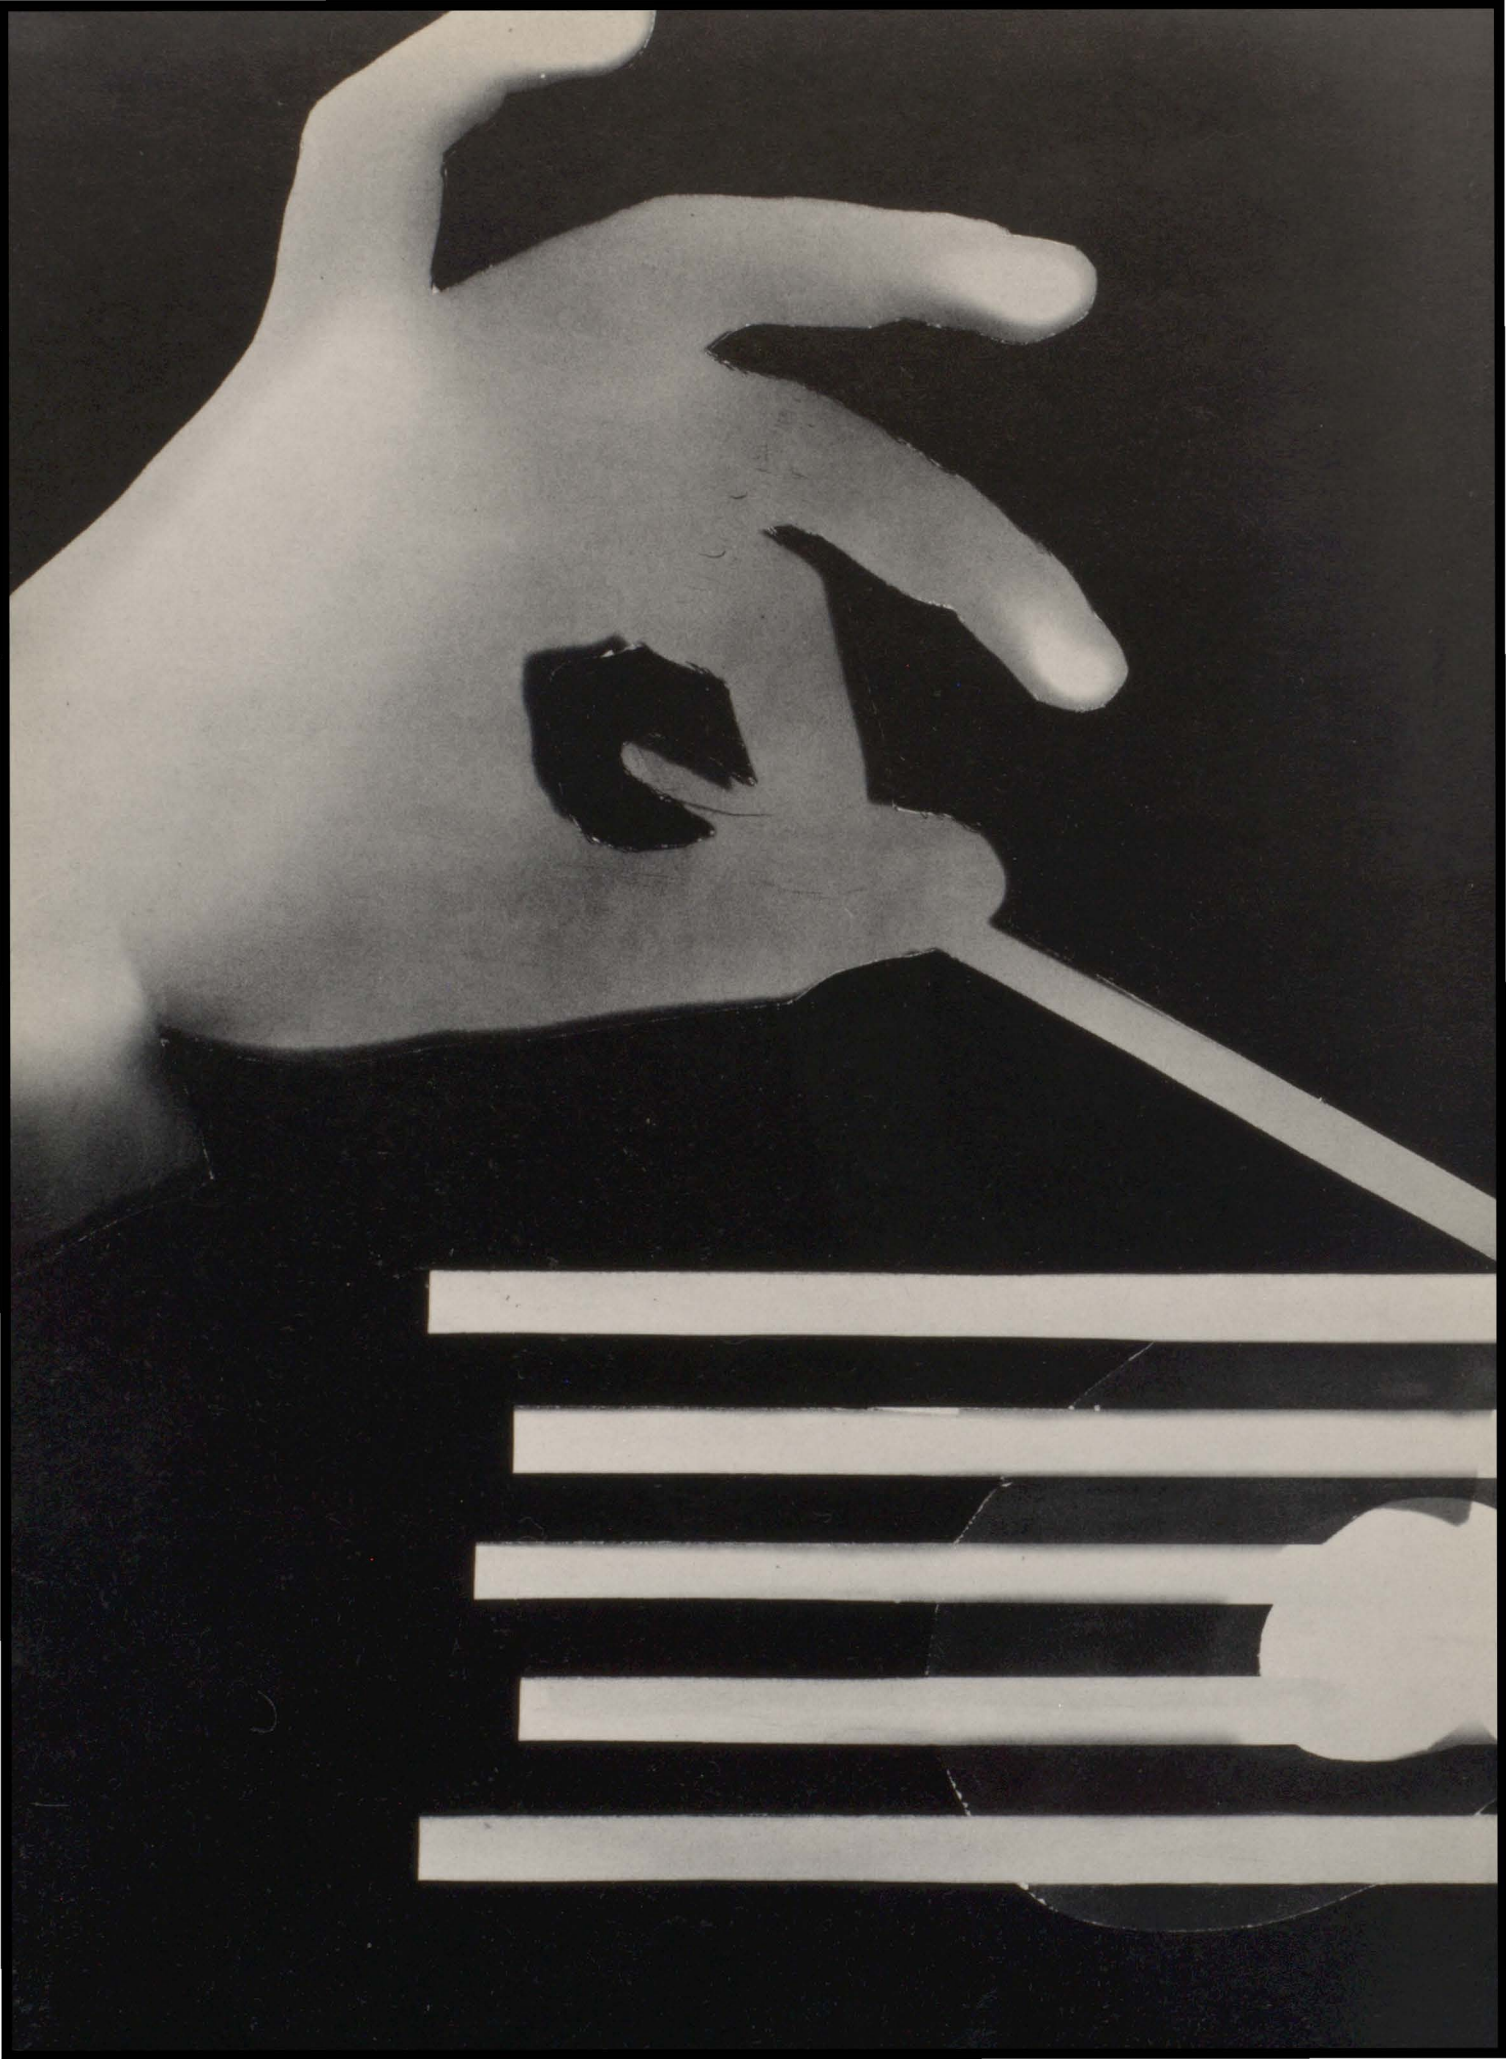

FOREWORD

MUSIC, the theme of MEMORIES '56 . . . universal in scope, significant to us all! Our favorites . . . popular . . . classical . . . jazz . . . are all herein united to form our modernistic "Symphony '56." Each symphony has four movements. Our first, the STAFF, begins just after the Principal's PRELUDE, the OVERTURE, and the presentation of the CONDUCTORS. NOTES, arranged upon the ever-lasting, all-important STAFF, constitute Movement Two. We, the NOTES, group together in harmonious fashion . . . we form CHORDS (activities) or Movement Three! But a symphony contains four movements—where is the fourth? For the present, none exists . . . ours remains an UNFINISHED SYMPHONY. We NOTES will compose that fourth movement throughout the rest of our lives.

Our original cover of modern colors . . . pink—light, fast-moving music . . . black—deep, heavy music . . . dramatize our "modernistic symphony." Trebbie, a musical abstraction resembling a treble clef, accompanies the rest of the art, photography and literary work.

All of these, together, comprise the Editors' presentation to you, a unified 56th Symphony.

conductors and staff

ADMINISTRATION

FACULTY

An orchestra playing without a conductor—truly a difficult feat! Musical notes without a staff, indeed meaningless! In the same way to us, as NOTES, the STAFF is indispensable with their counsel and instruction! Mindful of their assistance . . . we now pause to let the CONDUCTORS take their bows . . . to give humble and thankful recognition to the STAFF, to whom we owe so much. Innumerable have been the times, when by their considerate and skilled guidance and teaching, we have been made better citizens of our democracy.

CONDUCTORS

Mr. Foley of High School

With the retirement of Coach Foley, an era in B.H.S. has come to an end. As an athletic coach and teacher, the Coach has inspired many to brilliant careers. A native of Gloucester, Massachusetts, he was an all-sports star at Gloucester High and Salem Normal School. Now, after forty years of outstanding service to this school, although modest in his achievements, both on and off the field, he is now turning over his duties to younger people.

EDWARD M. URBAND

A pleasant smile, a congenial manner, and a concern for others are elements that blend in Mr. Urband. A graduate of Cornell University and of Montclair State Teachers College with degrees in architecture, Mr. Urband has gained a command of his subject as a teacher of mathematics at B.H.S. Many a student has found self-confidence as a result of his patient understanding and willingness to help. Although this June will mark the culmination of a long career in active teaching, ambitious Mr. Urband plans to engage in substitute teaching, architectural work and his favorite avocations, painting and photography.

EDWARD F. WASHBURN

A distinguishable appearance, a shock of white hair, and that every-ready helpfulness suggest Mr. Washburn, custodian of the cafeteria and our yearbook office. This sincere gentleman shares an important facet in our school life and is respected and loved by the students and teachers of B.H.S. Mr. Washburn came to us twelve years ago from Baltimore, Maryland, where he was reared and educated. Opportune moments are leisurely spent taking short trips in his auto. In the near future, he plans a vacation in Florida.

SENIORS

Music pleasing to the ear . . . notes arranged harmoniously . . . are not the two synonymous? We NOTES have placed ourselves systematically on a staff. We have endeavored to produce harmony. That harmony comprises all we have learned . . . all we have done . . . while at B.H.S. With each additional piece of knowledge gained . . . with each additional good work done . . . we make even more pleasant harmony . . . and will continue to add to this symphony until it is no longer unfinished.

There's a high school in New Jer-sey, Dear old Bloom-field, bless her name;
Soon the time will come when leav-ing Brings sor-row to each heart;

And we've loved her, yes, we've loved her, Since the day when first we came...
And we'll say good-bye to Bloom-field— Let us prom-ise, ere we part,

So, all hail! to Al-ma Ma-ter, And pledge e-ter-nal-ly,
Though the years be long, when -ev-er we may meet, we'll join in praise,

To live and die for Bloom-field High in love and loy-al-ty.
And thank our Al-ma Ma-ter for our good old high school days.

KATHLEEN L. HENTZ

We, the girls of the Class of 1956, wish to express our sincere gratitude and heartfelt thanks, to you, Miss Hentz, for your patient supervision and steadfast interest. Countless are the moments when we have confronted seemingly insurmountable problems in our academic and extracurricular ventures, but through your warmth, keen perception and concern, have we overcome these problems. All who have confided in you have grown to respect and admire you for your invaluable counsel. Our symphony, although unfinished, has thus far been successful and personal guidance. We, who have had the good fortune of obtaining your assistance and heeding your foresight, express our deep thanks, to you, Miss Hentz, for converging our three movements into a unified, beautiful symphony.

Class Advisors

DONALD DeCAMARA

The boys of the graduating Class of 1956 will forever remember and thank you, Mr. DeCamara, for your never-ending efforts in promoting our welfare. You, our guidance counselor these three years, have tirelessly concerned yourself with our problems whether they dealt with high school, college, or employment. Patiently, in a congenial manner, you relieved us of our burdens enabling us successfully to surmount our individual problems and difficulties. We, the product of your patient efforts, will always be grateful to have had the privilege of your aid and wish you continued success in the future.

National Honor Society

Promoting recognition of scholarship, leadership, character, and service is the prime purpose of the National Honor Society. Under the direction of Mrs. Lydia Polgalze, adviser, and President Bob Alvine, Vice President Dave LaGasse, Secretary Jan Dalzell, and Treasurer Steve Beers, the group conducts two induction ceremonies and an initiation party each year.

Student Council

Under the advisership of Miss Katharine Dennison, the Student Council fosters understanding between students and faculty, promotes worthwhile activities and represents the student body as a whole. This organization sponsored the Football Queen Dance, promoted aid to a German child overseas and sent officers to the State Conference of Student Councils. The highlight of this year's activity centered on our two foreign exchange students Johan Holst and Elizabeth Woodgate.

MEMORIES

Dear Class of 1956:

How excited I was when I discovered that the Editors of MEMORIES '56 had chosen me as the figure which would appear throughout MEMORIES '56! Even more surprising to me was their belief that I was only a make-believe character. Were they surprised when they found out I really exist and that I had been observing their every action! For this reason, the Editors asked me to write this letter to you, to help you understand how MEMORIES '56 was produced. In the Spring of 1955, the Editors began by deciding such basic things as theme, layouts, and contents—and me! After a heartily welcomed summer vacation, these hard-working Editors reappeared on the scene, only to be confronted with problems, work, and decisions. They wrote, they drew, they photographed. I was glad when they met their first deadline, the faculty and senior sections. I watched them begin work on the clubs, after which they promptly started the sports section. How happy we all were when all material had been given to the printer. MEMORIES '56 had been completed! What a sense of relief we all felt! The Editors and I will long and fondly remember the difficult yet pleasant days experienced while working on the yearbook, days made memorable because of the guidance, assistance, and inspiration of our advisers, Miss Irene F. Brummerstedt, Mr. William Willever, and Mr. Gilbert Hughes. To these people, the Editors wish to express their heartfelt gratitude. I do, too, for after all, without them I'd probably never have gotten the opportunity to write this letter.

Yours truly,

Trebbie

Busy reporters have been working to their capacity in order to meet the ten deadlines on the school paper's agenda for this year. The combined efforts of Editor-in-Chief Martin Braker, Assistant Editor Janice Dalzell, News Editor Barbara Haardt, Feature Editors Pat Cone and Betsy Thornton, Art Editor Bernice Maseritz, Photography Editors Robert Ambrosius and Fred Beste, and Exchange Editors Rosanne Druian and Mary Socha have resulted in the promulgation of ten thousand issues of the STUDENT PRINTS which have served fourteen hundred readers. The major change in the PRINTS this year was the conversion to new, larger six column pages in October, 1955. Long remembered will be the PRINTS' annual challenge to MEMORIES for the Spring baseball game.

Bloomfield High School, Bloomfield, N. J.

Faculty Outlines Evaluation Setup

Led by Dr. Oscar Granger, of Lehigh University, approximately twenty educators will visit Bloomfield High School on April 10, 11, and 12, to determine co-operatively with the B.H.S. faculty how well our school measures up to the secondary school standards of the Middle States Association. This is the second evaluation with Dr. Floyd Harshman, who we were evaluated with Dr. N.J. Schools, serving as chairman. The purposes of the evaluation are constructive, not inspectional, and are intended to help us meet, as well as possible, the basic needs of youth. Many superintendents, principals, and teachers feel that the self-evaluation which every staff does in preparation for its visitors is of vital importance. Our self-evaluation began two years ago. We have taken a long, long look at ourselves. That two years glance has told us whom we teach, including the population, and the economic, and educational status of Bloomfield, why we teach including the subject matter, the skills, and the attitudes we try to attain with our students, and what we teach in- cluding the complete and varied aspects of our curriculum. The visiting committee uses the data compiled in the self-evaluation as a basic check-sheet for rating the school. To check the self-evaluation, the visitors will visit classes, teachers, and stu- dents, examine many materials, confer with each other, give a general oral report to the fac- ulty, administrators, superinten- dent, and Board of Education, and send later a detailed written an- alysis and report.

Memories Earns First Place Rating

MEMORIES '55, published by the Class of June '55, has cap- tured a first place rating in the Columbia Scholastic Press As- sociation Contest. Annually, this contest attracts from all over the United States and Hawaii. To ac- complish its high rating and thus mark the fifth first place for B.H.S., MEMORIES scored 94.5 points out of 1000.

Rating this annual "a very good book," the critics remarked that "the excellent coverage of all phases of high school life shows tremendous work on the part of advisers and staff."

Symbolic of another honor for this yearbook is the inclusion of its eye-catching cover design, an original by the art staff, in the brochure published by the S.K. Smith Company of New York, the company that made in color to Yellow the Bengal Tiger's stripes and to suggest to introduce the theme "The Road of Life," a theme chosen in keeping with the con- struction of the Garden State Parkway through town.

PRINTS History Reflects Modernization, Improvements

As one looks back over the past issues of our high school newspaper, STUDENT PRINTS, it can be seen that changes have come the only similarity still possesses the same name, but that's about all. The price increased from five cents for a six to eight page issue, to ten cents for a sixteen page issue, and to fifteen cents for a twenty page issue. The price increased from five cents for a six to eight page issue, to ten cents for a sixteen page issue, and to fifteen cents for a twenty page issue.

Such headlines as "School Store Has Grand Opening," "Out-of-Beating Irvington, 34 to 0," "Sideline Gab," "Rumors," "Platterbox," and "If You Ask Me" also appeared. Joe McLaughlin was on the literary staff of THE STUDENT PRINTS and had a sports column, "Sport Slants" in the 1930's.

Interesting front page stories such as, "B.H.S. Cafeteria Offers Soup for Building Football Team Physique" gave hints for the under- sized boy and helped the sale of soup in the cafeteria. In 1929, faculty member William Foley was completing his fourteenth year at B.H.S. and Miss Edith Russell taught gym to 430 girls and also had charge of the freshman boys. In the coming October issue are featured stories on the Senior Play Mrs. Johnson's teaching French in grammar schools and a successful alumnus.

Senior Competitors Advance to Merit Scholarship Finals

Recently announced as semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition are sen- iors Harris Angell, Barbara Haardt, and David Samuelson. Approximately 800 high school seniors throughout the nation have attained this ranking by suc- cessful competition in the pre- liminary screening test, and they will receive certificates of merit. Based on the results of the Col- lege Board Scholastic Aptitude Test and on biographical in- formation supplied by the semi- finalists, a committee will select the final winners. About 350 grants will be awarded on the basis of financial need; they will range from $100 up to full tuition and living expenses or as much of that amount as is needed for four years of attendance at the college selected by the student.

"BEST FOOT FORWARD"

"Who said I could get a crease in these by putting them under the mattress?"

"Pleath, Mith Joy!"

A "ripping" good time!

"Where's A Girl?"

A weekend of fun and adventure best describes "Best Foot Forward", the senior play of the class of 1956. The story takes place in Winsocki, a boys' prep school. One of the students, Bud Hooper, finds himself knee-deep in trouble when he realizes that he has invited two dates to a prom, his regular girl, Helen Schlessinger and Gale Joy, a movie actress. This situation causes a mixture of excitement, comedy and tears. The pranks of Bud's pals and the dry humor of Gale Joy's agent, Jack Haggerty cause a great deal of laughter. The pupils weave themselves into a cobweb of trouble and confusion but the weekend turns out to a happy conclusion with Bud and Helen rejoined and Gale Joy given the honor of "Queen of the Winsocki Prom."

BEHIND THE

Naturally, no production would be possible without numerous committees "behind the scenes." And so it is with the senior play! Miss Ellen Hynson and her assistant June McGuire were responsible for all the dramatic coaching with Miss Kathleen Hentz and Mr. Donald DeCamara at the helm of the ticket committee. In addition to these, tribute should be made to the following: Program Committee; Stage Crew; Costume Committee; Prompting Committee; Properties Committee; Publicity Committee; Art Committee; Make-Up Crew, and the Usherettes. Without the assistance of any one of these, "Best Foot Forward" could never have been the tremendous success that it was.

TICKET COMMITTEE

"THE STUDENT PRINCE"

"The Student Prince," the Music Department's annual operetta, provided a memorable moment in the lives of the audience. The plot evolves around a lovely barmaid, Kathy (June Day) and a prince, Karl Franz (Matty Fleming), who fell in love. As they are about to elope, the prince receives word that his father is dying, and he has to return home at once. When he returns to the inn, Kathy realizes that they were not meant for each other and tells him to marry the princess (Adelaide Harris). He consents. Some of the most unforgettable songs from the operetta were "Deep In My Heart, Dear," and the drinking song. The plot was interspersed with laughs and songs from Frank Uzzolino, Tom. Ward, Lucille Hanson, Billy Heyman, and many others.

One of the most outstanding senior events of the year, the annual Senior Forum, took place on April 11, 1956. "How Does The Atomic Age Affect Youth?" was the topic of this year's Forum. From among the applicants for the Forum, Pat Cone, Rosanne Druian, Barbara Skoie, Raymond Barleon, Martin Braker, and Dennis Macklin were chosen as speakers with Ted Stempel serving as moderator. After the newly chosen panel met and decided upon the topic, they began immediately to accumulate and assimilate information on specific areas of the topic for the compilation of their speeches. Under the coaching of Miss Miller, Mr. Kendall, and Miss Hynson, the panel presented a Forum which was informative and stimulating while thoroughly interesting and enjoyable.

Art Committee

Displaying their artistic talents in service to the whole school are the members of the Art Committee. These members are all volunteers working earnestly to add to school presentations. The major activities of this year included the painting of scenery for "Best Foot Forward", the Christmas program, Band Concert, and the operetta, and they also are responsible for the advertising for most of the school's productions. This organization certainly deserves a great deal of credit for all the hours it has put into making all shows the tremendous successes that they are.

The Secret of Success

Audio-Visual Aids Crew

A service group whose main purpose is to serve the school is the Audio-Visual Crew under the guidance and advice of Mr. Fred Grill. Many are the times when the members show motion pictures for the various classes in one of the three movie rooms. Also, these boys run the public address system in the auditorium and help wherever needed. The crew earnestly strives to make the best use of the various materials, assisting the public library and other civic non-profit organizations.

Junior Red Cross Council

This junior edition of the Senior Red Cross has many services to its credit. Sending five hundred cookies to a veterans' hospital is only one of the Council's varied activities. As a service to our school, the J.R.C. donated our new flags for the auditorium.

Key Club

"We Build" is the motto of this club, which has lived up to its aim of rendering services to the school and community. At one meeting, the former President of Kiwanis Club was a guest speaker. Two special projects of these active boys were selling soda at basketball games and making Christmas decorations for the students' and teachers' cafeterias.

Library Club

Catalog the magazines! Arrange the books! These and numerous other vital tasks have been faithfully and meticulously executed by the members of the Library Club, for this group is a service club dedicated to the maintenance of the school library. These responsibilities have been lightened, however, by the Christmas Party, the trip to New York in the Spring, the Senior Breakfast, and other events on the club's yearly calendar.

Make-up Crew

Putting the finishing touches on such productions as the Senior Play and operetta are the duties of the Make-Up Crew advised by Miss Virginia Rolek. The application of powder, lipstick, eye shadow and paint is a skill in itself, and this crew certainly has accomplished a great deal in all presentations.

Senior Girl Reserves

"Find and Give the Best." This is the code of every member of the Senior Girl Reserves, one of the largest and most successful organizations in B.H.S. Because of a sincere interest in the welfare of others, this group has raised funds through various charitable sales and functions. Heading this list is the Datetime Fashion Show and the annual cake sale. This year they collected donations for the Muscular Dystrophy Fund, and gave a Christmas party at the Job Haines Home for the Aged.

Product of SERVICE

Junior Girl Reserves

Service to the school and community is the primary purpose of the Junior Girl Reserves Club. Included in the worthy projects of this organization during the past year were participation in the Muscular Dystrophy Drive and food and clothing contributions to needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas. Socially, the girls enjoyed an initiation and banquet in October.

Stage Crew

Imagine the Senior play without lighting and scenery! The work of the Stage Crew is indispensable, for this group is responsible for building and setting up the scenery, for arranging the lighting equipment, and for all the jobs the audience never sees or hears about. As a service organization, the members assisted in the production of the senior play, the operetta, musical functions, and all assemblies.

Careers for Secretaries

To acquaint girls interested in a secretarial career with the qualifications and opportunities of that field is the main purpose of the Careers for Secretaries Club. The members of this organization strive to increase their skills by performing various secretarial duties for the teachers of B.H.S.

Furthering an interest in merchandising and retailing as a career is the main purpose of the successful Distributive Education Club. A Christmas party sparked the club's social year. An excursion to Avon, Connecticut, the scene of the annual convention of the D.E. Clubs of Connecticut, was another of the group's interesting activities.

Future Nurses Of America

If a girl is interested in nursing, she will have a special interest in the F.N.A. This club was organized for the purpose of acquainting girls with the possibility of a nursing career. In addition to monthly meetings, any girl has the opportunity to work as a volunteer nurse's aide at Mountainside Hospital one day a week. Naturally, this experience proves to be very valuable if a girl thinks she would like to be a nurse. A trip to Jersey City Medical Center was the annual trip of this year's F.N.A.

Future Teachers Of America

To stimulate interest in teaching, F.T.A. provides varied acquaintances with this profession. Serving as substitutes in local elementary schools yields the members actual experience while monthly meetings feature guest speakers. Highlights of the year included field trips to state teachers colleges and a state-wide weekend workshop at Stokes State Forest. Approximately fifty enthusiastic future teachers formed this club.

activities. This organization performs behind-the-scene tasks for the senior play, operetta and other annual productions.

Home Economics Club

Striving to keep girls together who have a special interest in home economics and to demonstrate to those outside of school the value of home economics training are the foremost purposes of this club. Highlights on the social calendar of this year included the initiation, the making and selling of corsages, and the mother-daughter banquet.

Mechanics of Transportation Club

"Boost the horsepower!" and "Make the engines smoother!" are but a few typical expressions in the official language spoken by members of the Mechanics of Transportation Club. Knowledge of automotive and marine engines has been the product of interest and attendances of the club's get-togethers. A visit to the Ford Assembly Plant at Mahwah, New Jersey and car repair work were the predominating events of the year's activities.

Biology Club

To discover and cultivate scientific skills and to promote interest in the world of living things are the primary objectives of the Biology Club. Monthly meetings provide members with opportunities to display their scientific interest and knowledge in animal dissection, plant culture, and microscope work. A trip to the Plant Quarantine Station in Hoboken, New Jersey and an annual picnic highlighted the Biology Club's diversified program.

Chemistry Club

Whether it be dealing with ionization or neutralization, chances are that the enthusiasm of a Chemistry Club member has been aroused. Room 205-A, the meeting place of the club, has been the scene of many movies, scientific demonstrations, and informative lectures on matters related to the field of chemistry. The ultimate purpose of the Chemistry Club concerns the stimulation of interest and the stressing of the importance of chemistry.

Electronics Club

Students with the common purposeful interest of increasing their knowledge and understanding of electronics have supported the existence of the Electronics Club. Members have directed its activity primarily toward the building of a radio station and the techniques of radio and television repair. The club has also been instrumental in aiding students to obtain their radio licenses.

International Relations Club

Better appreciation of national and world affairs is the aim of the well-informed students, who combine business with pleasure in joining this group. A donation to a worthwhile charity, in addition to a Christmas breakfast and field trip to New York City, highlighted the events of an enjoyable year.

Camera Club

Photography enthusiasts have cultivated and shared their abilities and interests at the gatherings of the Camera Club. This organization has endeavored to improve the techniques of picture taking and foster an interest in photography among its members. The year's activity has revolved about the Photography and Slide Contest and a field trip.

Chef's Club

A delectable odor attracts our appetites. Of course, it's coming from the Chef's Club's kitchen. These eighteen senior boys prepare and serve foods of interest to all. The prominent aims of the club are to develop interest and knowledge in the culinary arts and to aid financially any beneficial cause or drive. This successful and fun-filled club visited the food preparation center of a hotel. Through this experience many useful hints and devices for food preparation were gained.

Literary Club

Newly formed this year by twenty-two charter members is the Literary Club, a pioneer in its field. Sharing the pleasure they derive from reading good books, the members strive to develop their powers of literary appreciation and criticism. Occasional special guests speak at the regular monthly meetings. At the February meeting, the club had the pleasure of entertaining our two foreign exchange students, Elizabeth Ann Woodgate from Australia and Johan Holst from Norway.

Philatelic Society

The Philatelic Society has brought the corners of the globe within the reach of its members' exploration through the medium of stamps. Although this club has provided hours of diversion and a source of knowledge of other nations, it has had a secondary function of creating a stamp album for the B. H. S. library. A field trip was numbered among the foremost activities of this club.

LEFT TO RIGHT: R. Hummel, Vice President; J. Papa, Treasurer, N. Resch, President.

NOT PRESENT: R. Leone, Secretary; Mr. R. Rockweiler, Adviser.

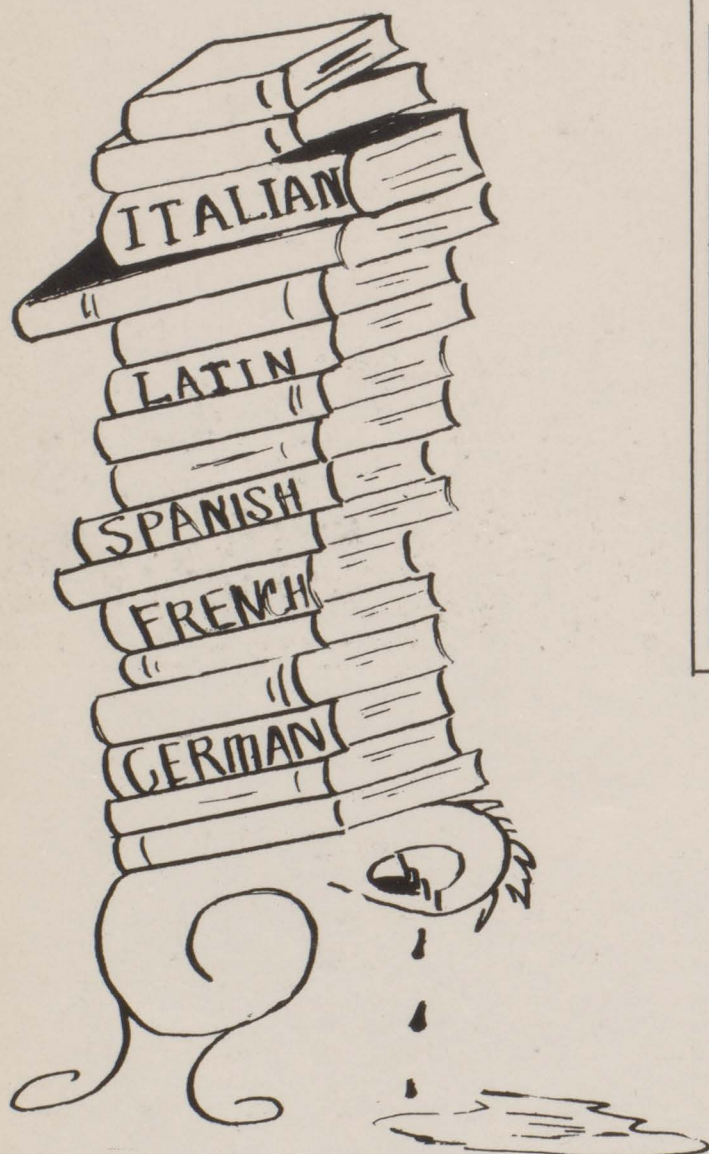

French Club

Le Cercle Francais seeks to increase interest, appreciation, and understanding of the French language, the French people and their customs. Highlights of this ambitious club's activities for '55-'56 were a trip to a French restaurant and a tour of a French steamship. Also, the club donated gift baskets on Christmas and Thanksgiving and entertained French exchange students at meetings.

German Club

Studieren Sie Deutsch? Deutscher Kreis aims to further an interest in the study of German. During the past year, the members especially enjoyed participating in folk dancing and folk singing. At Thanksgiving and at Christmas, the club contributed to needy families through the League for Friendly Service. Members also made favors at Easter for the Day Nursery.

The Universal LANGUAGE — Music

Italian Club

Activity seems to be the theme of this busy club, which aims to foster Italian culture. Special events included a trip to New York, a breakfast, and a dance. Socials at the homes of the members further enhanced the year's program.

Latin Club

"Classica Sodalitas" is the distinctive title oftentimes given to the Latin Club. A keen desire to increase their classical background of Roman life and customs; to understand fully the cultural and practical values of Latin; and to continue to promote interest in the classics has prompted the Latin Club members to raise funds through various sales. These donations help to send delegates to the 1956 Latin Convention in Ohio. Other services and social projects highlighting the year were the Thanksgiving dinner donation to a needy family, the formal initiation of the new members with Dr. Sherman Young of Drew University as speaker, and the meeting of Latin students in Trenton. The annual Christmas Party and the monthly social and business meetings are attended by the entire club in the atmosphere of a club member's home.

Spanish Club

Los Caballeros sponsor a gala Christmas fiesta, Pan American program, and cake sale annually. Mr. Robert Rockweiler, adviser, together with the other members, acquaint one another with the customs and culture of Spanish-speaking countries. In addition, their meetings provide an excellent opportunity for members to improve their conversational ability.

LEFT TO RIGHT: M. Petrigach, Secretary; K. Briof, President; J. Dalzell, Vice President; M. Deland, Treasurer.
NOT PRESENT: Mr. R. Rockweiler, Adviser.

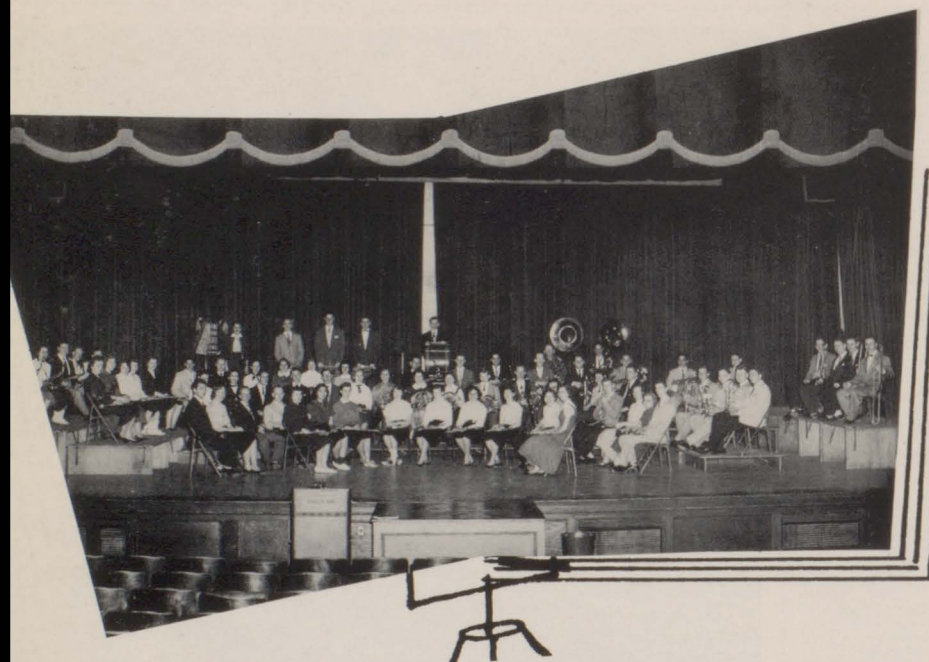

A Cappella Choir

The love of music is certainly evident in B.H.S.' own A Cappella Choir. In addition to outside engagements, they play a major role in many of our assembly programs. This group of singers is famous for the wonderful operetta in which they participate each spring. Under the leadership of Miss Edith Albinson, each member of the choir builds a musical background while singing himself into contentment.

Concert Band

Concert band members agree that many enjoyable hours have been spent performing in their varied musical programs. Members are given an opportunity to develop an interest and their talent in the musical field. Heading the year's agenda was the annual instrumental concert and exchange programs with Nutley H.S. and Essex County Vocational School. Richard Nelson and Harris Angel were selected as members of the All-State Band with Sal Accardo as an alternate.

Mixed Glee Club

Under the capable leadership of Miss Edith M. Albinson, the Mixed Glee Club, the Girls' Glee Club and the Boys' Glee all meet to sing. These Glee Clubs were organized in order to furnish ensemble experience for those who wish to develop their abilities. The major contributions of the Glee Clubs to the life of the school are the fine assembly programs in which they appear.

Musical Monday Club

Music, music, and more music are the favorite topics discussed and performed at the meetings of the Musical Monday Club. The Club is advised by both Miss Edith Albinson and Miss Katharine Williams. An alumni meeting is held near Christmas and an open meeting for faculty and students is held in May, when all members perform.

LEFT TO RIGHT: Miss K. Williams, Adviser; L. Hanson, President; G. Penberthy, Recording Secretary; L. Merola, Corresponding Secretary; E. Kierstead, Treasurer; M. Peters; D. Mead, Program Chairman; Miss E. Albinson, Adviser.

NOT PRESENT: C. Jensen, Vice President.

Orchestra

One may refer to the Concert Orchestra as the medium for mellifluous music-making in B.H.S. This activity acquaints its participants with the standard musical literature of the world. Among the eventful annual productions were the Christmas Program in which the String Orchestra Ensemble was spotlighted and the Instrumental Concert presentation of the Operetta Orchestra. Having attained membership in the State Orchestra, Eleanor Kierstead, David Mead, and Richard Nelson reflected the group's success this year.

Swing Serenaders

The soft strains of "Stardust" announce the beginning of another very enjoyable evening of dance entertainment provided by our own Swing Serenaders. Led by Gene Tully and advised by Mr. Raymond Hartman, the Serenaders have thrilled us countless times with their own renditions of old favorites and current hits. In addition to playing at school dances and the Instrumental Concert, they also entertained at Overbrook and various community dances. The vocational training gained is very valuable for those students who plan to have music serve as an avocation or profession. This was proved in February of 1956 when three members of the group—Richard Nelson, John Weber, and Jane Fax appeared on television.

TRACK CLUB

"Run those corners!" This is a familiar bit of instruction from Coach Wilson during a typical Track Club meeting. The club sponsors a relay carnival in the spring, and a B.H.S. track and field record display board. The main purpose of the club is to promote track interest throughout the school.

TUMBLING CLUB

Popular among many boys is the B.H.S. version of rock 'n roll. The apparatus and tumbling activity provide an excellent means of attaining many worthwhile objectives in modern-day living. The program allows boys to develop the arms, shoulders, chest, and back muscles that are missed by participating in most games. The interest and beneficial results derived from the Tumbling Club last for many years after a formal education has been completed.

THE CHEERLEADERS

Energetic jumps, splits, animated cheers of "Fight Bloomfield, Fight!" and successful attempts at leap frog portray a few of the skillful stunts of our cheerleading squad. Under the capable advisership and leadership of Miss Pauline LaFerrera and Bonnie Colissimo, these thirteen girls have produced spirited cheers which have heightened the morale of our football and basketball teams and have added vitality to the student body and other sport functions. Win, lose, or draw, the vigor and encouragement of our cheerleaders have aided B.H.S.'s teams and our students to maintain a good spirit of sportsmanship and a sense of fun and fair play.

SPORTS . . . a Sound Body

THE FLAGWAVERS

THE TWIRLERS

The flash of batons, colorful flags, and those dances in skilled unison depict the twirling and flagwaving squads of 1956. The thorough adeptness and fineness of performance which the twirlers and flagwavers have gained is due to the capable guidance of Miss Virginia Rolek and the leadership of Paula Biunno, majorette; Kay McCormick, flagwaving captain; and Lynn Vanderlippe and Gert McRae, minorettes. The twirlers and flagwavers have added zest and vitality during the football season as they have strutted down the field displaying their talents and original dances and routines. The ideas for the shows and dances are formulated by the girls and suggested by Mr. Hartman. The originality of our squad is portrayed in the football half-time shows, the band concerts, and various performances held for local organizations.

William L. Foley

A popular teacher and coach admired and respected by all here at B.H.S. is Mr. Foley who has brought much fame to this school. He is given a great deal of credit for the advancement of school football in the state of New Jersey and also for the status of coaches and other teachers of this region. As football coach, he has won eleven state titles and at one time compiled a defeatless string stretching more than forty-five games. In addition to his work as an athletic coach, Mr. Foley has taught all commercial subjects.

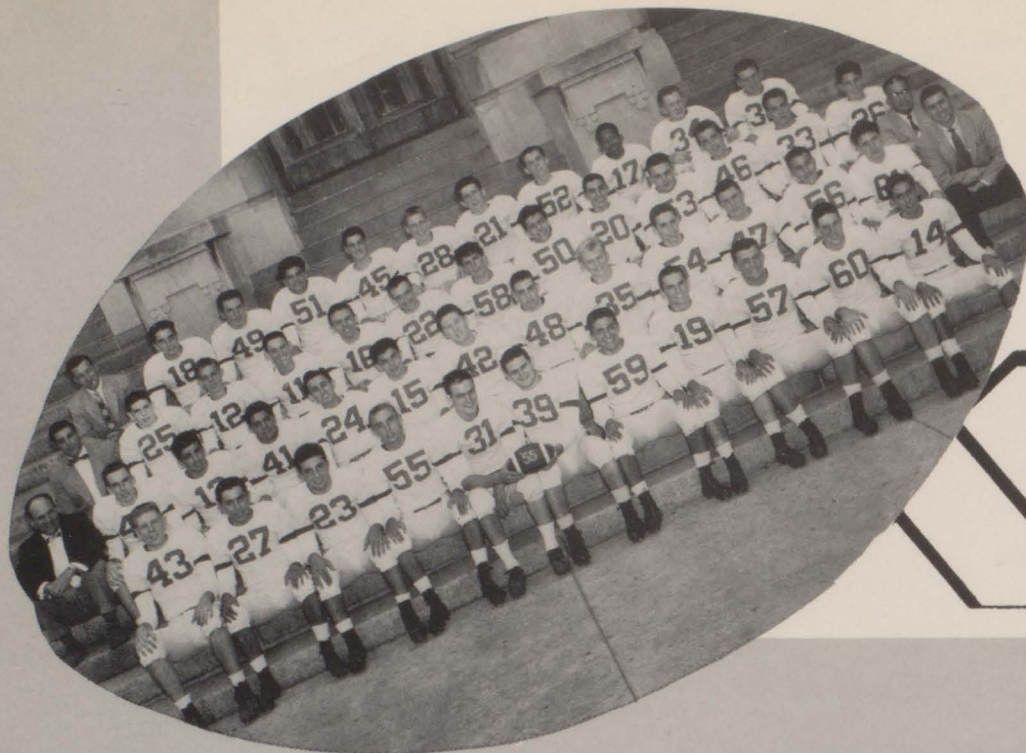

Born in Gloucester, Massachusetts, Mr. Foley was an all-sports star at Gloucester High and Salem Normal School and began teaching here in 1915. During World War I, he was an ensign in the Navy. When asked his spare time activities, he stated that he enjoyed reading historical novels, attending ball games and traveling. His parting words to the class of 1956 are a quotation of Benjamin Franklin's, "Do not waste time for that is the stuff that life is made of."

We are sure that the name of Bill Foley will live on in the hearts of many students for the inspirations, ideals, and characteristics of this great man.

Warren Lowans' resignation from the head football coach's post came as a big blow to all Bengal grid fans. Nevertheless, backfield mentor Joe Bogusz took the new position with a flair and enthusiasm that was a proud equal to Mr. Lowans. Installing the Split-T offense in place of the conventional T formation which had been at Bloomfield for 38 years, Coach Bogusz had hopeful plans for his 1955 delegation. Unfortunately, continuous injuries plagued the Bengals from the very start of the season, and it wasn't until the waning games of their schedule that the squad showed its real talents. Chalking up three wins against six setbacks, the Tigers dropped a 7-6 decision to a top-flight Nutley team with the Maroon touchdown coming in the last 37 seconds of play, and then put on a dogged battle before falling victim to undefeated Montclair 18-0. Defensively, Bloomfield had much to offer. All-Stater Joe Yachimack was a bearcat at tackle and eventually received the Frederick W. Newman Most Improved Player trophy. End Gerry Murphy, meanwhile, led the team in pass receiving with ten aerial connections to his credit besides excelling on defense. Murphy accordingly was named the Most Valuable Player at the conclusion of the season. Tom Fasulo, Mike Codella, and Bill Maciunski presented many joyous moments for B.H.S. despite the unpretentious record.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

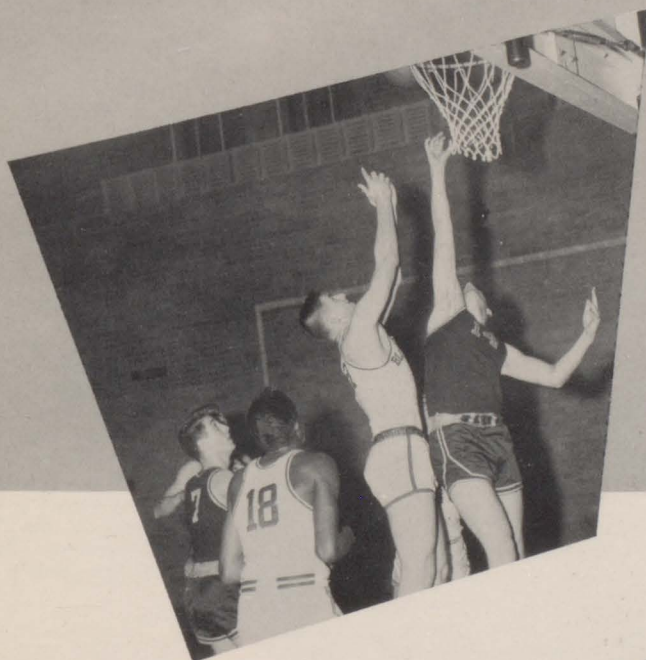

Spearheaded by sharpshooting captain Bud Salamone, the 1955-56 cage edition of Bloomfield High School produced a very commendable record of thirteen wins against eight setbacks. Coach George Cella's basketball charges manufactured many exciting games or Bengal fans as all but one of their losses was within an eight-point margin. As a matter of fact, the Red and Gray dropped a pair of three-point difference thrillers to East Orange besides being edged by one point by Irvington and Belleville. Bloomfield's starting lineup throughout the season was a young one as three juniors, Bill McCormick, Stan Kaminski, and Chuck Quinn, in addition to sophomore Mal Abernathy concluded the court campaign as regular starters. This gives Coach Cella exceedingly bright plans for the future. Salamone often meant the difference between winning and losing for the ball club. His 411 points for the year moved at a 20 point per game average, and along with his clever ball handling, the 5'10" speedster ranked among the top basketball players in the state.

Bloomfield High's 1955 baseball campaign was an erratic one. With Joe Bogusz taking over the reins as head varsity coach, the Bengals went on to win seven games while dropping eight and tying one. Despite the overall record, the Red and Grey had the fabulous distinction of possessing three no-hit hurlers. Junior Frank Messina initiated the feat April 19 in blanking Montclair for the first Tiger win over the Mounties since 1953. Right-hander Tony Ruvo duplicated the trick on May 13 against Irvington in 11-0 decision for his second no-hit victory at B.H.S. Finally, Dick Hasz bested Central High 4-0 on May 17 to close out the Foley Fielders' remarkable achievement. Marty Beyer led the regulars at bat with a .353

With Art Beck and Joe Ponzio serving as co-captains, Bengal hurlers went on to strike out 108 members of the opposition. Ruvo highlighted the ERA department with a 1.48 average while Hasz recorded an imposing 1.78 mark.

TRACK

OUTDOOR TRACK

Five outdoor track records were smashed by Coach Peter Wilson's 1955 spring combine. Breaking two of these marks was speedster Bill Lenskold who cracked school 440 and 220 yard events with respective times of 49.6 and 22 seconds. Lenskold, who led the team in total scoring for the second straight year with 104 points, was selected as the Most Valuable Trackman at the end of the season. Other record setters included Don Catino in the javelin with a toss of 175' 8", Dick Emberger in the high jump with a leap of 6' 1", and Len Dramis in the mile run. Dramis, who established the B.H.S. standard in 4:31, won the Essex County mile championship for the second consecutive season. Emberger's jumping distance meanwhile replaced a seventeen-year-old Bloomfield High record which had stood at 5' 10". Co-captained by Cal Keyler and Ken Cestone, the cindermen saw their string of 13 successive dual meet victories draw to a dramatic finish on April 22 when a powerful Columbia squad turned the tide. Although they did drop three dual meets during the regular season, the Bengal aggregation finished very strong as they captured their last four encounters, with convincing wins over South Side, West Orange, Belleville, and Nutley. With a fourth place position in the County Meet during the early part of the season, the team closed out its spring campaign after a 5-3 dual meet mark with a seventh place showing in the annual State Meet.

Cross Country reached its height of success at B.H.S. during 1955. Displaying exceptional team balance, the Red and Grey harriers produced a sizzling 8-1 dual meet record besides annexing the Essex County Cross Country Championship and finishing fourth among 24 entries in the State Meet. Coach Peter Wilson thereby upped his harrier record to 27-11 for a .711 pace since taking over the tutoring reins at Bloomfield in 1952. Captained by Wayne Morris, the Bengal runners were powered by two fleet juniors, Bill Schwab and Ned Quinn. Schwab led the team consistently throughout the regular season and was appropriately awarded the Most Valuable Runner trophy. Quinn, on the other hand, improved so steadily that he recorded the fastest time of all his teammates in both the Country and State Meets. As a result, he received the Most Improved citation for the second year in succession. On November 8, the crowning achievement of the year was the County competition in which Schwab, Quinn, Morris, Dave LaGasse, and Dick Emberger teamed up for a total of 63 points to give Bloomfield its first crown in such competition.

TENNIS

Coach Cabot Kendall's tennis team experienced a fruitless season in 1955 as they went winless in ten consecutive matches. With senior captain Charles Reilly and junior Fred Block accounting for all the team's scoring, the squad lacked the balance of a successful year. Block concluded the net campaign with a personal record of 5-5 while Reilly racked up four victories opposed to six setbacks.

GOLF

Improvement highlighted the '55 spring golf season as the linksmen registered an overall 2-4-1 mark compared with just one win in seven starts the preceding year. Captained by senior George Lucas, the golfers scored a sixth place in the State Tournament with Paul Lyons as the long Bengal standout, securing eighth place on the 18 hole course. Gene Butler and Arvid Young are the key prospects for next year.

Bloomfield High's varsity bowlers continued their monopoly of the New Jersey Interscholastic Bowling League crown in 1956 as they copped the trophy for the fourth consecutive year. With Arthur Benson serving as coach for the first season, the keglers were driven into a playoff with Wayne High School, both teams having finished the regular season with 8-2 marks. Paced by Ron Witkos and Alex Bobinski, the pinmen went on to win, two matches to one. Most consistent of the Bengal bowlers was Bobinski who downed a total of 3148 pins during the campaign for an average of 165.13, fourth in the league. Witkos was next in line for Bloomfield with a 163.11 average, sixth among all NJIBL contestants.

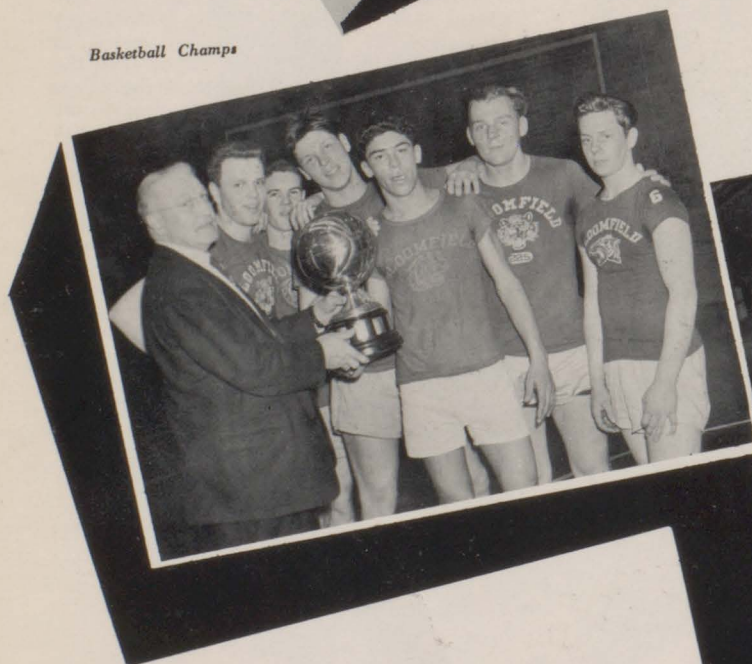

Good for a Strike

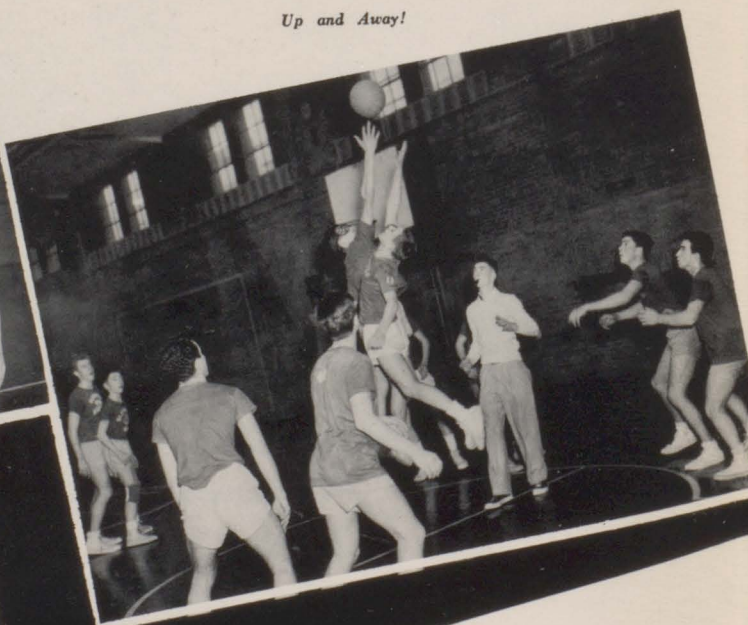

The male population of B.H.S. saw another formidable year of intramural athletic competition in the fields of softball, basketball, bowling and golf. In the spring of 1955, Neil Dello Russo's diamond delegation, the Red Sox, took the first place with a 4-1 record. Later on during the winter months, the annual Early Bird League went into action for morning basketball fans. In the finals, Nick Mita's senior brigade edged Luke Falzo's junior squad 18-16 before the entire student body in the Bloomfield gymnasium. Also during the colder months, the intramural keggers saw numerous action with Ron Witkos' UCLA team winning the league championship. Eight squads took part in the bowling activities with senior Alex Bobinski snaring individual honors with a 166.8 average, just nipping fellow classman John Strenkowski who registered a lofty 166.1 per game average.

MRS. MYRA D. SEELY

Affectionately known as "Ma" to many girls in B.H.S. is attractive, vivacious Mrs. Seely who directs the Girls' Intramural Sports' Program. Because of her enthusiastic interest in the sports that she sponsors, Mrs. Seely has increased interest and participation in the Girls' Sports' Program. The girls of Bloomfield High School will never forget Mrs. Seely's patience and understanding both as a teacher and as a friend.

LEADERS' CLUB

Under the direction of Mrs. Myra D. Seely, the members of the Leaders' Club are provided with practical experience in the art of leadership. In addition, the girls have the opportunity to promote sociability and to plan gym activities. Funds for club activities were raised through the sale of B.H.S. pins and beanies. The club's social activities include an installation breakfast and final Leaders' Club party to top the year.

HOCKEY

The real enjoyment of a hockey game can best be gained through active participation in this fall sport. That's a fact certainly well known to the B.H.S. girls who combined to form this year's squad and practiced every Monday afternoon at Brookdale Park. The games themselves—plus the social event of the season, an outdoor supper, will long be remembered by everyone on the team.

BASKETBALL

Spirit plus enthusiasm describe the action of the girls' basketball teams which play on the gym court every Wednesday afternoon during the late winter season. This game is, perhaps, the most representative girls' intramural sport. With about a hundred and fifty participants, shouts, whistles, and laughter are familiar sounds during these basketball games.

VOLLEYBALL

With the sound of the whistle, a volleyball is hit over the net and another exciting game has begun. Played in late winter, this sport always requires a great deal of team work and practice in order to produce a winning squad. Teams are generally formulated according to classes, and all participating girls have fun.

SOFTBALL

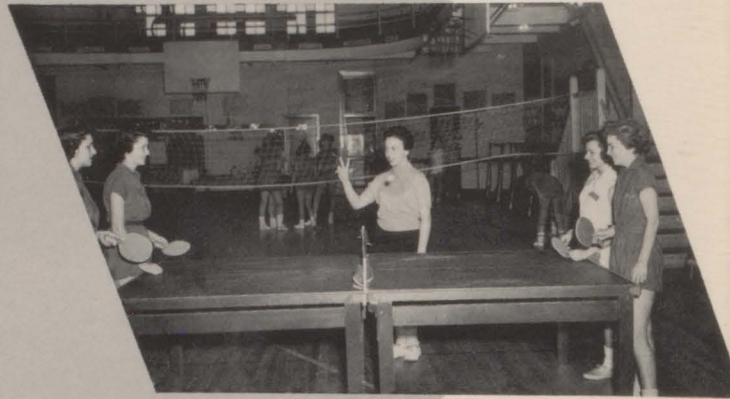

Crack—"It's a homerun!" . . . At the beginning of spring many of our girls may be seen out on the baseball diamond getting in practice for one of the most popular sports—softball. Keen competition and fun highlight the intramural teams which are generally formed according to classes.

SWIMMING

While having a good time, many girls from B.H.S. meet often at the Orange Y to learn the techniques of swimming and diving. Courses are offered for beginners, intermediate, and advanced swimmers. Through these courses, many girls earn their junior and senior life-saving awards.

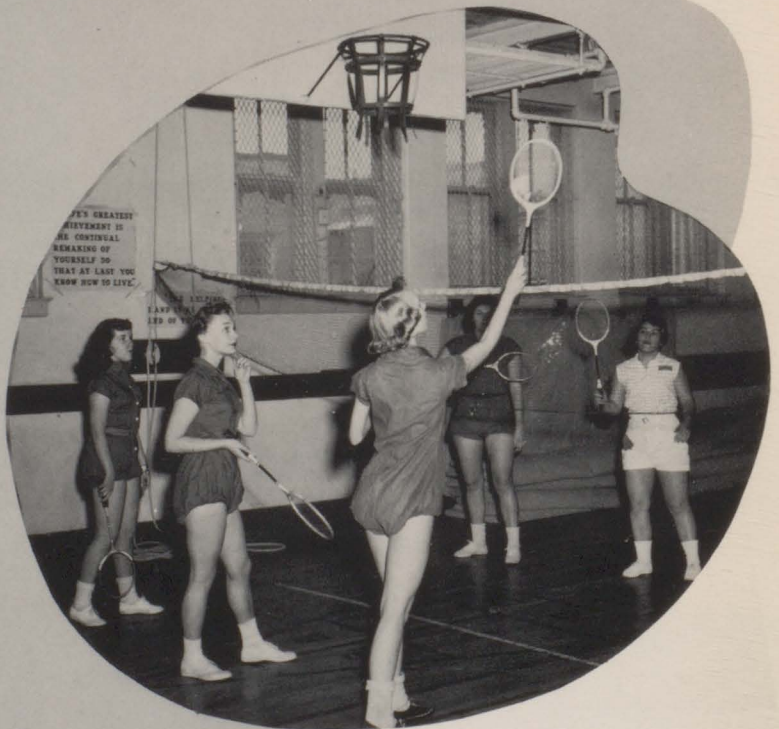

PING-PONG

A game of skill and lightning-fast action, ping-pong is a favorite among many B.H.S. students. These energetic students can usually be seen the girls' gym every Wednesday afternoon, following the girls' basketball season, carrying on the spirited contests which denote this fine sport.

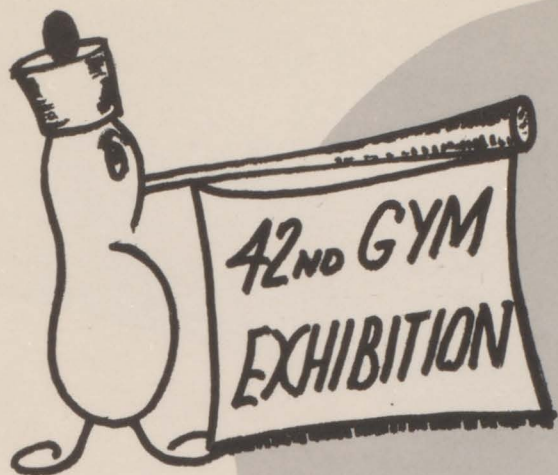

BOWLING

A very popular winter sport with the girls of B.H.S. is bowling. This fine game of skill is carried on every Monday afternoon from January to March at the Bay Avenue bowling alleys. The ten teams compete in an adult manner for the top honor of first place. There is fun for all when the season is climaxed with a co-ed bowling tournament.

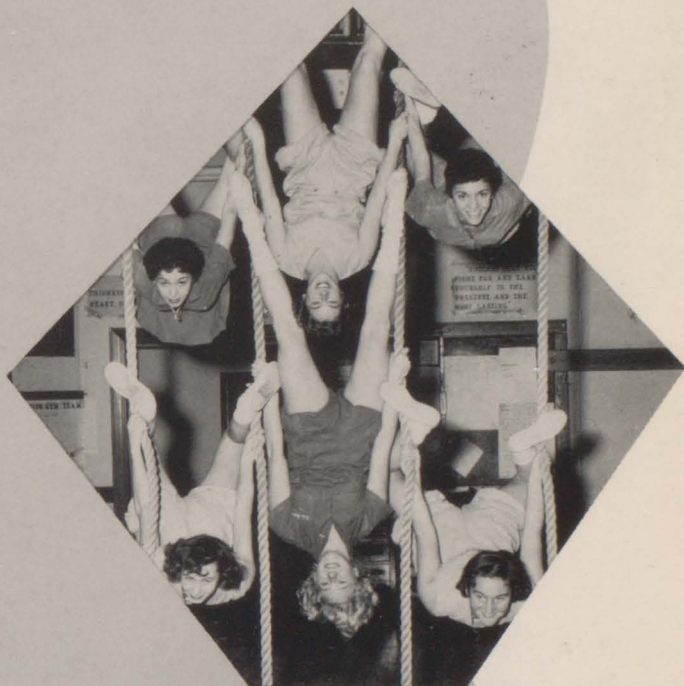

BADMINTON

"Watch the birdie!" That's the secret of badminton. Marked by the fun and enthusiasm by all that participate, this game entails not only speed, agility, and good reflexes, but also the ability to think quickly. Most Wednesday afternoons in the late winter will find a number of B.H.S. girls carrying on this sport.

On March 20, 23, and 24 of 1956, Miss Edith C. Russell presented her forty-second and last Gym Team Exhibition. The girls will never forget those familiar gym team commands that resounded in the girls' gym every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon under the competent guidance of Miss Russell. "Back with your rings! Let's see some well-formed back and front twists! Keep those toes pointed!" Yes, all this apparatus work, this final perfection of skills displayed on the ropes, rings, and parallel bars, had taken many months of long, hard practice. Miss Russell has taught girls not only these skills, but also those intangible traits of good sportsmanship and respect for the other individual's endeavors and abilities. All these qualities are finally illustrated in March when the Gym Teams presented themselves to parents and friends.

TUMBLING TEAM

Tumbling together this year were Marion Jago, Joanne Eckert, Judy Bogan, Judy Storm, Judy Braun, Edna Mae Richie, Trudy Cable, Alberta Giancola, and Captain Anne Lavery. Included in the girls' routine were cartwheels, front chest rolls, elbow stands, chin stands, head stands plus a few bumps, bruises, and lots of fun.

CLOCKWISE: A. Lavery, Tumbling Team; E. Fischer, Gym Team; J. Dalzell, J. Storm, Drill Team; J. Fiedler, Archery Team.

"The lines are ruler straight!" This is a familiar utterance of countless spectators who have viewed, "Scotties on Parade," B.H.S.'s Drill Team. Each year Miss Russell chooses thirty-two girls, who, after hours of practice, learn the intricate march routine. It has been such a remarkable spectacle at Foley Field and at the Gym Team Exhibitions, that the girls now perform annually at Madison Square Garden, and at various local schools and associations. This year the climax was their performance televised from Adelphi College. Aside from this precision marching, the girls utilize their sewing talents by making their own vividly colored Scotch costumes.

ARCHERY

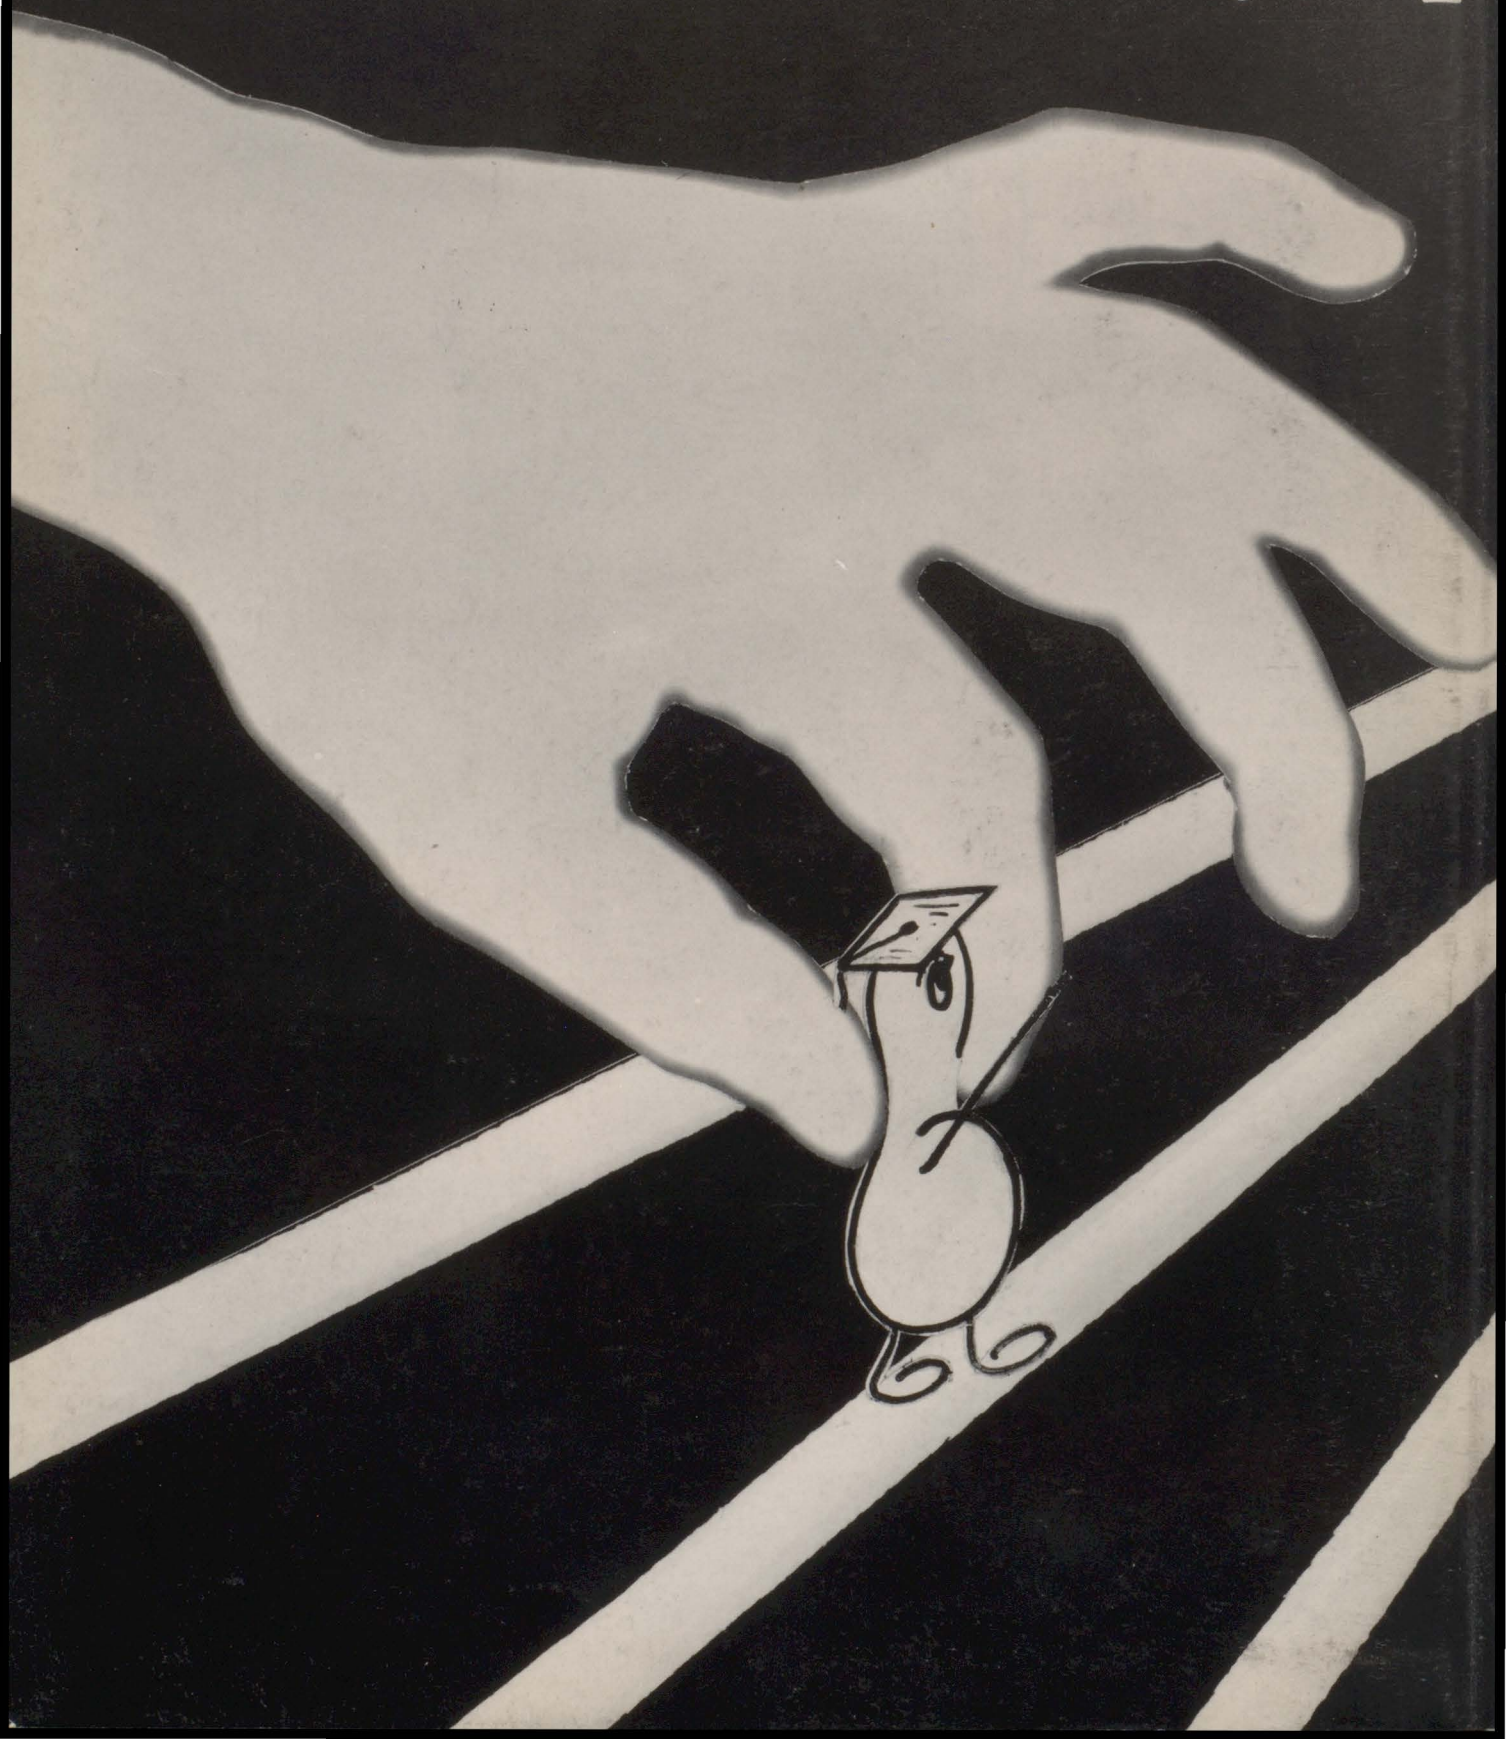

Targets up . . . points set . . . and there go the arrows! Coached by Miss Russell and captained this year by Jane Fiedler, the team's unfailing marksmanship has been displayed in many of the tournaments and various exhibitions. The team has now for fifteen consecutive years captured the National Interstate Archery Championship.

EDITH C. RUSSELL

"A Coach of Champions"—our own Miss Russell of B.H.S.! She has been an outstanding director of girls' gym activities for many years. Products of her hard work are the outstanding performances of the Archery Team, Drill Team, Tumbling and Gym Teams. She can look back with pride at all the girls she has coached during her years at B.H.S., for she has instilled in them a feeling of loyalty and sportsmanship never to be forgotten. We, the Class of '56, wish Miss Russell continued good fortune in the years to come.

CONCLUSION

With the close of the Third Movement, our Symphony remains unfinished—for the present. Whether aware of it or not, each of us will begin writing his own Fourth Movement the moment after Commencement! The first three movements, our years at B.H.S., prepared us for the fourth, the longest and most difficult of all. It is up to each one of us to continue to live our lives with a view toward making the finished Symphony '56 end grandly and successfully.

To the Class of '56:

To our MEMORIES advisers, Miss Brummerstedt, Mr. Willever, and Mr. Hughes, to the eight editors, and to all the members of the staffs who took an active part in producing MEMORIES '56, I wish to express my heartfelt thanks! The creation of this treasured work would have been impossible of our advisers and the diligent work on the part of so many throughout the entire year. Working together, we have done more than compose our "symphonic year-book"; we have begun to reap the benefits of democratic cooperation, toleration of others' points of view, and the mechanics of yearbook production.

To have given of my time and efforts as Editor-in-Chief of MEMORIES '56 has been a pleasure and an honor. I hope this important record of our life at B.H.S. will serve as a monument of gratitude to all who helped make it. Although all our paths will part, I hope MEMORIES '56 will always remain a pleasant memory of B.H.S.

Sincerely yours,
Raymond Charles Barleau

To the Editors and Staffs of MEMORIES '56:
Here it is, your yearbook, the tangible results of your creative thinking, planning, writing, drawing,-- and hard work! To you who have produced this book for your classmates, we, your advisers, extend to you our congratulations for a task well planned and successfully executed. May your unfinished symphony have a very happy, successful fourth movement!

Best wishes to you!

Sincerely,
Dore F. Brummerstedt
